

Government and Military Housing

From the construction of new government housing to the renovation of existing military barracks, WESCO has a broad range of products and solutions to help build safe, energy efficient homes that better serve your neighborhood.

What we can do for you

Electrical Upgrades

If your electrical gear is old and not serviceable, it's time for an electrical upgrade. Upgrading your electrical distribution system can help solve common electrical problems such as ground faults, tripping breakers and control system failures.

- Control panels and loadcenters
- Home surge protection

Emergency Power

Power failures disrupt normal life. When they happen, residents are unable to cook, heat or cool homes, communicate, supply fresh water, and store perishable foods. WESCO offers a portfolio of products and solutions to respond to power failure.

- Standby generators
- Uninterruptible power systems (UPS)
- Automatic transfer switches

Communication and Security Solutions (CSC)

CSC, a subsidiary of WESCO, provides residential solutions for home computing, home automation, home entertainment and home office networks—cost effective solutions that meet the needs of today's builders, developers and the homeowner.

- Cable
- Structured cabling/communications products
- Home security products
- Home entertainment

Lighting Upgrades

Proper lighting will make your neighborhood more secure from intruders, protect citizens from certain hazards, and help you meet energy saving requirements.

- Interior and exterior lighting
- Emergency lighting
- Public area and parking lighting
- Path, landscape and signage lighting
