

Healthcare IT

Healthcare organizations are concerned with securing patient records and data as well as complying with HIPAA requirements. CSC, a subsidiary of WESCO, can assist with your data communications and security infrastructure needs while reducing overall costs through our value-added services.

What we can do for you

Power Over Ethernet (PoE)

Ethernet networks that are IP-based are the most efficient way to transmit large quantities of healthcare related data in a rapid and precise manner. These networks support many applications such as voice, data, video, and access control.

- In-Line Hubs
- Injectors
- Powered Patch Panels

Structured Cabling

Cabling is a major component of healthcare network infrastructure. High performance structured cabling can allow for an increase in network performance, resulting in increased productivity and patient safety.

- Copper Cable and Connectivity
- Fiber Cable and Connectivity

Physical Security and Network Infrastructure

With legislation such as the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA) requiring physical security in healthcare environments, securing network infrastructure has become a mandatory step for compliance.

- C4ISR networks and facilities
- Critical Infrastructures
- Sensitive Information
- Enterprise Networks
